Can the POS accept such documents as POA and take them on record? I am personally not comfortable with this since in principle, anyone with access to a computer can print such a statement. | If the statements are on the letterhead of the Bank/DP, the same can be accepted. Even a copy of the same can be accepted after verifying with the original. If not on entity letterhead, the same needs to have the seal of the bank and signature. Cannot accept statements printed on plain stationery without the bank seal and signature.  |

| 67 | What is FIU?  | The Government of India set up Financial Intelligence Unit – India (FIU-IND) on 18th November 2004 as an independent body to report directly to the Economic Intelligence Council (EIC) headed by the Finance Minister. FIU-IND has been established as the central national agency responsible for receiving, processing, analyzing and disseminating information relating to suspect financial transactions. FIU-IND is also responsible for coordinating and strengthening efforts of national and international intelligence and enforcement agencies in pursuing the global efforts against money laundering and related crimes |
| 68 | Are Mutual Fund Investors also covered by PMLA?               | Yes, the PMLA covers all Financial Intermediaries, and this includes Mutual Funds. As such, all investors are required to submit necessary documentation that will help the Mutual funds complete the KYC procedure.   |
| 69 | What is KYC?  | KYC is an acronym for “Know your Customer”, a term commonly used for Customer Identification Process. SEBI has prescribed certain requirements relating to KYC norms for Financial Institutions and Financial Intermediaries including Mutual Funds to ‘know’ their customers. This could be in the form of verification of PAN Number, identity and address, financial status, occupation and such other personal information.  |
| 70 | What are the KYC requirements for a Mutual Fund Investor?     | An Individual investor will have to produce copy of his PAN card as proof-of-identity and a separate document as proof-of-address. |    |  | collared crime has arrived. Seemingly innocent people have been involved. It is also observed that had the checks, as now proposed by the PMLA, been in place, the detection or even pre-emption of the crime could have been possible. In this context, you will appreciate that providing your identity / address proof and information about your occupation and financial status will only help the Government in isolating the few who are involved in money laundering.   |
| 72 | All this seems quite scary. Do I need to take any precautions? | Yes. You should be prudent in your money matters, just as you are in following some rules such as – say – not carrying unknown articles from unknown persons when you are traveling across cities. You should not receive or pay money on behalf of others, unless it is for a genuine transaction in which you have participated. You should also take care that you only deal with known individuals or companies which are registered with or regulated by SEBI, RBI, etc for all financial transactions. Please also ensure that you fill out forms completely and strike out any portions which you do not use or need.  |
